To whomsoever it may concern

SPACE is a leading organization that has been founded chiefly to stir the scientific temperament present in our future scientists. The organization and resource persons act quite intelligently to teach life skills to growing children through various interesting and useful applications of astronomy and space science concepts. To become a subscriber of the club is like stepping into a new world which opens up an interesting channel to explore and understand our universe with the help of a wide range of practically useful activities. In other words, the successful completion of the journey of the first module has added a new dimension to the budding Victorians' thinking pattern and ability. The nineteen sessions which included many indoors and outdoor workshops to observe the movements of various celestial bodies, clicking pictures from NASA space station in Sally Ride Earth Camp, the overnight camp at Sariska etc. helped our children grow with a developed scientific frame of mind and paved way for the growth of a scientifically evolved India. The management feels pleasure in stating that its journey with the organization has proved fruitful and expresses heartfelt thanks to the people associated with it especially to Mr. Abhinav, Ms. Sakshi, Ms. Riddhi and Ms. Aastha.
